How can we help you save time and money?

Shane's Story: Driver's Licence Protection

- Shane was running late for work when he was pulled over and ticketed for making an unsafe left turn.
- The charge would cost him $110 and two demerit points, as well as affecting his vehicle insurance premium.
- Shane believed that he had made an honest mistake and that the ticket was unfair.
- Frustrated, he called the ARAG Legal Helpline for assistance and information, and was told his case would be passed to the ARAG Claims Department for review.
- Since this was a claimable legal event, legal representation was assigned to handle disputing the ticket on Shane's behalf.
- The assigned lawyer successfully defended him in traffic court, and the charge was completely withdrawn. Shane did not even have to take time off work, as the lawyer handled it all for him and he saved over $750 in legal fees.

Radhika's Story: Property Protection

- While Radhika was away on a family vacation, her new neighbour put up a new fence between their properties and to her surprise it was built 1.5 feet onto her property.
- She spoke to her neighbour as soon as she saw what happened, but the neighbour adamantly denied it was built on Radhika's property and refused to move it.
- Radhika was disappointed her neighbour was not being rational, and she called the Legal Helpline and a lawyer was assigned to handle this on her behalf.
- The appointed lawyer contacted the neighbour to advise of the trespass. The neighbour still refused to accept that the fence was built on Radhika's property and hired his own lawyer, which necessitated getting copies of the plans and deeds from the land registry, the asking a surveyor to attend and comment on the location of the fence.
- The surveyor agreed the fence was not built on the property line, and when presented with the evidence and the threat of litigation, the neighbour eventually agreed to move the fence back to the property line.
- Radhika saved $4,000 in legal fees.
